

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Assessment of compliance of the Baku-Tbilisi-Ceyhan oil pipeline project (Turkey section) against International Finance Corporation (IFC) safeguard policies and other IFI standards, domestic and international law

1 Overview and recommendations

The BTC Consortium (BTC Co.), an eleven-member coalition of oil companies led by BP, has applied for public funding (what BP itself has called “free public money”¹) from the World Bank’s private lending arm, the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD) and a number of Export Credit Agencies to finance a major new pipeline – known as the Baku-Tbilisi-Ceyhan (BTC) pipeline – from the Caspian Sea to the Mediterranean.

There are significant questions over the public utility of this pipeline for the people of the three host countries, Azerbaijan, Georgia and Turkey, as well as the extent to which the BTC project will facilitate rather than impede many of the objectives that are part of the IFC’s and EBRD’s mandates, such as poverty alleviation, regional development and transition to democracy, in the three states. For example, the framework legal document for the BTC project, the Inter-Governmental Agreement (IGA), specifically notes that the “Project is not intended or required to operate in the service of the public benefit or interest in its Territory.”²

However, in June 2003, the IFC and the EBRD approved the project’s Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) and Resettlement Action Plan (RAP) and released them for a 120-day period of public consultation. The IFC’s board is due to consider the application for funding on 30th October 2003.

This review examines the EIA and RAP for the Turkey section of the pipeline, against the World Bank’s operational policies and safeguards and other standards to which the project is committed under the legal framework that it has established. The review fall into seven parts covering the following aspects of the project:

- Chapter 2: Project legal framework
- Chapter 3: Consultation
- Chapter 4: Resettlement
- Chapter 5: Cultural heritage
- Chapter 6: Environmental assessment
- Chapter 7: Assessment of project alternatives

Chapter 8: Ethnic minorities

The review finds that the project continues to breach all relevant World Bank safeguard policies on multiple counts, in addition to violating other project standards. In all, the review has identified at least 153 partial or total violations of IFC and EBRD Operational Policies (48 on Consultation, 28 on Resettlement, 29 on Cultural Heritage, 10 on Environmental Assessment, 8 on Assessment of Alternatives and 30 on Ethnic Minorities), plus a further 18 partial or total violations of the European Commission's Directive on EIA, and at least two direct violations of other Turkish law (specifically the Expropriation Law³), giving a total of at least 173 violations of mandatory applicable standards. These are summarised briefly below, tabulated in Table 1 and defined in full in the relevant sections of the report.

Because compliance with these standards is required under the legal regime for the project, such violations of the standards put the project potentially in conflict with host country law.

If so, that would place the project in fundamental breach of IFI requirements that projects they finance comply with domestic law – and IFIs would be duty bound not to support the project while these remain unresolved.

This review also highlights continuing concerns over the legal regime for the project, particularly with regard the continuing inadequacy of third party and other rights, even after the introduction of BTC Co.'s Human Rights Undertaking⁴; possible breaches of Turkey's accession agreements with the EC; and conflicts between the undertakings of BTC Co. and the OECD Guidelines on Multinational Enterprises.

The review concludes that the project cannot be deemed fit for purpose and recommends that the Boards of the IFC and EBRD delay any decision on financing the project until:

- The project clearly meets IFI policies and guidelines, and has satisfactorily rectified the many serious violations outlined below;
- The project complies with host country law, in terms both of direct, existing law, and of international standards (such as IFI policies and EC Directives) which are part of the legal regime of the project, as defined through the project agreements;
- The rights of and benefits due to affected people (such as the requirement of the World Bank Resettlement policy to ensure that affected land users receive negotiated compensation payments prior to construction) are observed in full, retroactively as well as in future operations;
- The project agreements have been amended to;
 - clarify both the standards that apply to the project and the order of precedence in which they apply;
 - ensure third party rights;

³ Turkish Expropriation Law, No.2942, Official Gazette No 18215, Article 27

⁴ 26th September 2003

- ensure compliance with Turkey's obligations under international human rights, land rights and environmental law;
- comply with Turkey's accession agreements with the European Commission (EC), in particular by ensuring that Turkey moves towards the acquis communitaires, rather than away from them; and
- comply with the Memorandum of Understanding between the World Bank, the EBRD and the EC on assistance to accession countries;
- Ongoing investigations and inquiries by independent authoritative bodies have been satisfactorily concluded. These include:
 1. The EC completing its ongoing assessment of the project as part of its November review of Turkey's progress in complying with the Copenhagen criteria;
 2. The OECD National Contact Points for the OECD Guidelines on Multinational Enterprises ruling on a complaint now being considered against BP over the BTC project;
 3. Imminent inquiries by the European Parliament.

2 Legal regime – potential conflicts with Turkey’s international undertakings, and continuing conflicts between project implementation and project agreements

The BTC project is subject to a specially negotiated legal regime, set out in an international agreement between Turkey, Azerbaijan and Georgia (the Intergovernmental Agreement) and a private contract between the BTC Consortium and the Government of Turkey (the Host Government Agreement).

A number of concerns have been raised with respect to:

- Conflicts between the IGA/ HGA and Turkey’s international obligations on environment and human rights;
- Conflicts between the HGA and Turkey’s Accession Agreements with the European Commission (EC);
- Incompatibilities between undertakings in the Joint Statement on adherence to the OECD Guidelines on Multinational Enterprises and BP’s record in respect of the project.

This review finds that:

- Although BTC Co. has moved to resolve some of the issues raised through the publication of a ‘Deed Poll’ (the BTC Human Rights Undertaking, 26 September 2003), legal opinion continues to cast serious doubts on its efficacy. In particular, the fact that it is not binding upon host governments; the continuing uncertainty over third party rights and the failure to waive the ‘stabilisation clause’ with regard to third party claims; and continuing concerns over virtually unlimited security powers suggest that the Deed Poll still does not do enough to protect the rights of affected people.
- The conflicts between the HGA and Turkey’s accession agreements remain unresolved. In addition, NGOs have drawn attention to conflicts between the BTC project agreements and a Memorandum of Understanding reached between the EC and IFIs on financing for EU accession countries.
- BP has failed to comply with the OECD guidelines, as required by the project agreements. A complaint by NGOs is in the process of being adjudicated upon by the relevant authorities.

3 Consultation

The BTC Consortium has undertaken that the project will comply with World Bank Group standards, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD) standards and the European Union (EU) Directive on Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA), all of which contain requirements with regard to consultation. In the case of the EU Directive, compliance is a legal obligation under the Host Government Agreement signed between the BTC Co. and Turkey. Breaches would thus constitute breaches of host country law.

For the Turkish section of the pipeline, this review finds:

- At least 42 violations or partial violations of International Finance Corporation (IFC) operational policies OP 4.01 (Environmental Assessment) and OP 4.04 (Natural Habitats), on consultation on the EIA (a further 41 breaches of 4 other World Bank guidelines relate to consultation on resettlement, on cultural property and on ethnic minorities, and are covered in those respected sections below);
- 6 breaches of the EBRD's Environmental Policy with regard to consultation;
- 4 breaches of the EU Directive on Environmental Impact Assessment, with which the EIA is bound to comply under the Host Government Agreements: these breaches thereby constitute potential violations of host country law.

Specifically:

- Lack of freedom of speech and human rights abuses along the route fundamentally invalidates consultation procedures;
- Less than 2% of affected people have been consulted face-to-face;
- Consultation of affected people began more than a year after the consultation process started, and lasted only two months in total;
- Analysis of consultation responses is consistently rushed, imprecise and often cursory, frequently amounting to little more than basic demographic information;
- The consultation process was heavily focused on people not directly affected by the project, such as government departments;
- The project failed to apply basic protections to vulnerable minorities;
- There were insurmountable barriers to affected people participating in planning and designing the project;
- Affected people and stakeholder groups did not have access to basic project information;
- Affected people were misinformed about the potential benefits and negative impacts of the project;
- Affected people were misinformed about their rights;

- The project failed to properly consult with listed key stakeholders including NGOs, political parties and women;
- The project failed to implement recommendations of affected people;
- Those unhappy with the project and what it has brought them often found their opinions ignored and their dissent a source of danger.

4 Resettlement

BTC Co. has undertaken that the project will comply with Operational Directive OD 4.30, Involuntary Resettlement, June 1990, which sets out requirements with regard to resettlement and compensation for land acquisition. BTC Co. is also obliged to comply with Turkish law on land expropriation, according to the Host Government Agreement.

This review finds:

- Emergency powers have been invoked by the Government of Turkey to override key provisions of OD 4.30, flouting commitments under the Host Government Agreements and the Resettlement Action Plan (RAP);
- The RAP is in potential breach of provisions under Turkey’s Expropriation Law, on at least 2 counts;
- The RAP fails to comply with the World Bank Group’s policy on Involuntary Resettlement (OD 4.30) on 28 counts;
- Since the Lump Sum Turnkey Agreement legally requires compliance with OD 4.30, these 28 counts of non-compliance are further potential breaches of Turkish law.

Specifically:

- Displacement took place before compensation was completed;
- In many instances, compensation levels are too low to ensure that livelihoods are restored or improved;
- The project fails to properly restore affected people’s livelihoods;
- Consultation with affected communities of land expropriation and compensation was inadequate;
- Affected communities have not been informed of their rights with respect to land expropriation;
- There has been no consultation on resettlement alternatives;
- The project has not adequately considered specific impacts of land expropriation on vulnerable groups and ethnic minorities;
- Land compensation has not been paid at full replacement cost;
- The RAP has used unreliable information on numbers of people economically displaced and settlements affected;
- The project fails to treat customary land users equally or fairly;
- The RAP was approved by IFC staff as “fit for purpose” prior to its completion – for example, the resettlement plan for fishing communities was not finalised.

5 Cultural heritage

The two main relevant safeguard policies relating to cultural heritage, the World Bank's Policy on Cultural Property (OPN 11.03) and the World Bank's Draft Policy on Physical Cultural Resources (Draft OP 4.11), emphasise the necessity for careful and detailed preparation for major projects, in order to prevent disastrous and irreversible cultural damage.

Crucially, the relevant directives show that preservation of cultural heritage is not just to do with keeping intact the physical remnants of past civilisations, but of maintaining the crucial living dynamic link between local people and the heritage that surrounds them.

This review finds:

- At least 29 full or partial violations of IFC guidelines (OPN 11.03 and Draft OP 4.11) on cultural heritage;
- The project contradicts a range of other standards and laws, including the Valetta Convention, which Turkey has ratified and the Charter of the International Council on Monuments and Sites (ICOMOS).

Specifically:

- The EIA fails to acknowledge dynamic link between local people and cultural heritage;
- The project has failed to obtain comprehensive inventory of cultural heritage resources before construction;
- The EIA fails to predict or adequately prevent likely impacts of construction on cultural resources;
- The project has failed to consult local people with regard to cultural heritage and route planning;
- The project has failed to engage local people as stakeholders in preservation of cultural resources;
- Mitigation measures are inadequate;
- The project over-relies on salvage archaeology;
- Survey methods have been cursory and superficial;
- Commercial imperative takes precedence over cultural preservation;
- There is evidence of ongoing destruction of cultural resources.

6 Environmental assessment

The Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) for the BTC project was reviewed against the standards required under the legal regime laid down in the Host Government Agreement and the BOTAS/BTC Co. Turnkey Agreement, namely the EC Directive on EIA and the IFIs' safeguard policies on environmental assessment (in particular IFC OP 4.01 Environmental Assessment).

This review found:

- The HGA has already been used to short-circuit best practice on site investigation and consultation procedures during the scoping phase of the EIA in order not to compromise the construction schedule, contrary to BTC Co.'s assurances that the agreement would not be used to undermine environmental best practice;
- The EIA partially or fully breaches the EC Directive on Environmental Impact Assessment on 14 counts (on top of the 4 related to consultation – making 18 in total), in potential violation of host country law as defined by the HGA;
- The EIA partially or fully breaches the World Bank's environmental assessment policy (OP 4.01) on 10 further counts, again in potential violation of host country law as defined by the HGA – on top of the breaches relating to consultation (above) and assessment of alternatives (below);
- The EIA is unclear as to which IFI standards are applicable and thus as to the specifics of the legal regime that prevails for the project;
- There is controversy over the order of precedence of the relevant standards in the event of any conflict between them;
- The EIA fails to specify which EC Directives, apart from the Directive on EIA, are applicable to the project.

Specifically:

- Construction of the BTC pipeline began before an EIA was approved;
- The HGA has been used to override normal procedures for scoping study;
- Assessment of impacts on flora and fauna is inadequate;
- The project has failed to complete an adequate baseline study;
- The EIA fails to assess the sustainability of the project;
- The EIA's treatment of seismic risks is inadequate and flawed;
- The project has failed to reduce or remedy risk of oil spills at Ceyhan and of decommissioning;
- There has been insufficient analysis of species;
- The EIA fails to present original data;

- Accuracy, reliability, methodology and gaps are not indicated in the EIA;
- Consultation with affected villagers has been inadequate and flawed;
- The independence of EA experts is questioned;
- There has been inadequate assessment of alternatives;
- The project has failed to address trans-boundary impacts of tanker traffic and to inform affected Member States;
- The project has failed to consult with authorities and public in affected Member States;
- The project has failed to consult on trans-boundary impacts;
- The project has failed to address indirect impacts on climate.

7 Assessment of project alternatives

Both the IFC and EBRD require that the EIA assess alternatives to the project, including the “without project” option.

This review finds:

- At least 8 partial or total violations of IFC Operational Policy OP 4.01 (Environmental Assessment) on assessment of alternatives.

Specifically:

- The “Without project” option was not seriously considered, with many alternatives not considered at all, and those that were, only in an unbalanced way and with very limited scope;
- Alternative strategic routes were not seriously considered;
- There was a clear failure to properly consult on project alternatives;
- A systematic approach to assessment of alternatives was lacking.

8 Ethnic minorities and vulnerable groups

The BTC pipeline passes through a number of areas with significant ethnic and religious minorities. In Turkey, these minorities include Alevi, Çerkez and Kurds. The BTC Consortium has committed itself to ensuring that the BTC project conforms to some relevant World Bank group/IFC standards, yet it has declined to apply the World Bank's Operational Directive 4.20, Indigenous Peoples, the only directive specifically aimed at safeguarding the interests of minority groups. In this, BTC Co. has been supported by staff of the International Finance Corporation.⁵

Closer investigation, however, reveals that the Kurds in particular meet every one of the criteria for applying OD 4.20, and that the rationale for not doing so is fatally flawed. BTC Co. and IFC staff's decision not to apply the policy leaves ethnic minority groups unnecessarily and unjustifiably vulnerable to socio-political difficulties connected to the BTC project.

A complaint challenging the IFC's decision is now being prepared by NGOs for submission to the IFC's Complaints Advisor Ombudsman.

As a result of the decision not to apply OD 4.20, this review finds widespread failures in the project's treatment of indigenous peoples, including:

- At least 30 partial or total violations of IFC project requirements under OD 4.20

Specifically:

- BTC Co. has failed to ensure ethnic minorities benefit from the project;
- The project fails to mitigate adverse impacts on ethnic minorities;
- The project has failed to foster respect for ethnic minority rights;
- The project has failed to ensure ethnic minorities do not suffer adverse effects;
- The project has failed to ensure informed participation of ethnic minorities;
- The project has failed to draw up an ethnic minorities' development plan;
- There has been no participatory assessment of development plan options;
- The project has failed to take account of local social organisation in drawing up development plans;
- The project has failed to assess the relationship of ethnic minorities to mainstream society;
- The project has failed to ensure minority group participation throughout the project cycle;

⁵ The IFC argues that OD 4.20 is not applicable, and that a "vulnerable groups" approach (currently being developed by the World Bank) is more appropriate. In line with this position, the Resettlement Action Plan (RAP) sets out the project's approach to ethnic minority issues in an Appendix entitled "Vulnerable Groups in the Context of BTC Project".

- There has been no independent appraisal of the extent of participation by ethnic minorities.

9 Table 1 – Summary of breaches of project standards

Explanatory notes to table

The table below considers specific requirements of:

- IFC and World Bank Safeguard Policies;
- EBRD policies;
- EC Directive on Environmental Impact Assessment;
- Turkish Expropriation Law.

It should be noted that more general legal questions, inconsistencies and potential breaches are more complex, and do not lend themselves to tabulation, so are just summarised above, and explained in full in chapter 2.

For ease of reference, evaluation of compliance is examined here in the same order as it appears in the main text of this review, under the following six chapter headings:

Chapter 3: Consultation

Chapter 4: Resettlement

Chapter 5: Cultural heritage

Chapter 6: Environmental assessment

Chapter 7: Assessment of project alternatives

Chapter 8: Ethnic minorities

It should be noted that some policies and requirements relate to more than one of these chapters.

The greatest number of project breaches is of IFC's OP 4.01 (Environmental Assessment); consideration of that in this review is therefore divided between chapters 3 (consultation aspects of OP 4.01), 7 (assessment of alternatives aspects) and 6 (other aspects).

Breaches of consultation requirements specifically relating to resettlement, cultural heritage and ethnic minorities are tabulated below in those respective sections, rather than under consultation.

Consultation

In line with the chapter structure of the main text of this review, this section tabulates only breaches on consultation aspects of IFC policies OP 4.01 (Environmental Assessment) and OP 4.04 (Natural Habitats), and of EBRD Environment Policy.

Breaches of consultation requirements of other policies are tabulated in other sections, specifically:

- World Bank OD 4.30 (Involuntary Resettlement) – resettlement section, below;

- World Bank OPN 11.03 (Cultural Property) and Draft OP 4.11 (Physical Cultural Resources) – cultural heritage section, below;
- World Bank OD 4.20 (Indigenous Peoples) – ethnic minorities section, below.

Breaches of non-consultation aspects of IFC policy OP 4.01 (Environmental Assessment) are tabulated under Environmental Assessment and Assessment of Alternatives.
